Save Our Parks

OPEN FOR BUSINESS---Mrs. Don Hebard (left) and Mrs. Fran Kukuk, active members of Campbell Citizens for Parks, stand by the directional sign for the park bond headquarters at the Campbell Congregational Church on W. Campbell Ave. On June 10, the $625,000 park bond issue goes before the electorate.

The headquarters is located in a room at the church with an outside entrance. (Two phones: 379-3750 and 379-3550.) The headquarters will be manned by volunteers from 10 a.m. to noon until Monday, June 2, when it will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and also in the evening.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

SOME OF OUR FRIENDS (?) have taken issue with the cutline under the photo of the recent annual Police Dinner in which we were pictured receiving a "tantrum mashie" from Police Chief John Morgan.

For the uninitiated, this is a special golf club that can be bent at will without breaking. It comes in handy, for example, when one desires to sort of blow off but doesn't want to damage any property in the immediate vicinity. (We broke a beautiful golf club that-away once. A darn tree jumped up just as we threw our club.)

Anyway our friends (?) thought that there should have been an editorial note with the cutline specifying that we were being facetious.

Some people who didn't know us too well might have thought that what was meant by "even-tempered" was even-tempered.

This is not to justify anything but, if it will make some of you jokers feel better, we admit that there have been times when the short fuse ignites.

Darn it, we are not going to say any more.

FOR THE RECORD ALSO it should be mentioned that Police Chief John Morgan informed the office that he thought last week's issue of The Campbell Press was by far the best in all the years (14) that he has been in Campbell.

We thanked him profusely for those sentiments, until we found out the basis for the compliment.

The Press did a big spread on the annual Police Dinner. It so happened John was at the mike as MC. His mug appeared EIGHT times in that one issue.

No wonder he thought the issue was great!

Another award winner (?) at the Police Dinner was Father John Lally, pastor of St. Lucy's.

If you recall Father Lally was given a St. Christopher's medal with an added feature, a rabbit's foot had been added.

As a "fish-eater" of the old school, we thought this was a clever and humorous twist.

And Father Lally seemed to enjoy it more than anyone at the affair, if his hearty laugh was any indication.

St. Christopher, along with one of the "St. Lucy's", has been demoted or something. St. Christopher, as most know, has been the patron saint of travelers.

And a rabbit's foot has long been known as a good-luck charm.

The way the traffic is today, even if St. Chris had not been demoted, travelers very definitely need all the help they can get.

Especially on the freeways.

THERE WAS, IN OUR opinion, an unpublicized feature of Police Recognition Week which was quite impressive. The department received a beautiful bouquet of flowers with an unsigned card attached simply stating "Happy Police Week to Campbell's finest".

In face of the brickbats, both literally and figuratively speaking, that the cops seem to be getting in abundance today, we imagine the bouquet was much appreciated.

At least it was a change of pace.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS reunions are events that over the years we have managed with some effort to stay away from.

But this year was an exception.

In fact we attended two Chowchilla High class reunions

DREAM COMING TRUE

Street trees get Council backing

Campbell will continue with its present street tree planting program on a minor scale for major streets with the hope that individuals and organizations of the community will assist in expanding it through volunteer efforts.

In addition to voting to continue the tree-planting policy that has been in effect during the past year, the City Council on Monday directed Bill Wren, public works director, to earmark $2000 in the budget for the program, the same amount as last year.

Councilman Ed Rogers, council civic improvement chairman and long-time advocate of extensive planting of trees along the major streets and medians, made the motion to continue the policy with special emphasis on the planting of trees on the east side of Winchester from Campbell Ave. north to Hamilton, and from the Hamilton Plaza Center (Bascom and Hamilton) south, a street section that is to be widened and improved this next year.

The action by the City Council followed a report by Wren in which he said that he had not been satisfied with the tree-planting program that had been in effect, especially along Winchester south to Rincon.

Wren said that one of the problems was that the trees were sort of messy because of the dirt and water spilling onto the sidewalk. A hole could not be left at each tree, he explained, because of the hazard it would cause.

The public works director added that a steel grate had been found which he felt would solve the problem but it would cost approximately $80 per tree. The tree to be put in place, he pointed out, would cost about $45. Thus the total cost would be $125 per tree.

Putting 40 trees just between Hamilton and Latimer would cost $5000, he said.

Council members felt that the tree planting should be continued but on a modest scale. For the time being only $2000 should be allocated for trees and without grates.

In another action Monday night, the City Council denied the request of California School of Learning made by Court Watson, board chairman, for a waiver of the $100 license fee for the operation of a fireworks stand.

Watson in his letter to the Council, specified that the school was a non-profit organization servicing children who have been unable to learn in existing special or regular classes.

He added that all profits from the fireworks stand would go to the school which has kept its tuition at a minimum to allow for the teaching of many needy children and that the school faced a monthly deficit of $700 that had to be made up by grants and donations.

Although the councilmen were sympathetic, they voted

Park bond drive enters last lap

With only two weeks remaining before the crucial $625,000 park bond issue election, members of the Campbell Citizens for Parks, headed by Bill Podgorsek, chairman, are concentrating on "spreading the word" throughout the city through "koffee klatches", speakers bureau and just by word-of-mouth.

Having adopted the slogan of "save our parks", the committee is emphasizing that, unless the bond issue passes (by a two-thirds majority) on June 10, Campbell's available "open space" will be virtually eliminated.

A failure of the bonds to get the two-thirds majority will give the green light to the construction of a four-story 288-unit apartment complex one an eight-acre parcel immediately adjacent to Rincon park.

The present owners of the property, Hiatt & Zolezzi, have agreed to sell the acreage to the city. The city has no funds available for the purchase and thus the [illegible] the bond issue.

The eight acres can be purchased for $201,000 and, in addition, a county-owned parcel, south of Rincon, can be acquired for a maximum of $31,000.

The breakdown for the bond issue also specifies that $80,000 will be earmarked for joint programs with the school district and parent clubs in the development of eight neighborhood parks at schools within the city limits. (Another six acres of property owned by one school district adjacent to Rincon Park can also be used for recreational purposes.)

Under novel concept, each of the eight schools (seven in the Campbell district, San Tomas, Hazelwood, Rosemary, Dover, Capri, Forest Hills and Rolling Hills and Coventry in the Moreland district) will be allocated $10,000 for development of what is now unused property owned by the school districts.

The bond issue also sets up $200,000 for master planning and development of the park program. The issue also includes $13,000 for bond and election costs.

The bond headquarters has been set up in a room at the Congregational Church of Campbell that has an outside entrance. Two phones have been installed (379-3750 and 379-3550). The office will be manned by volunteers on a two-hour daily schedule (10 until noon) until Monday, June 2, when it will be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily and also from 7 to 9 p.m.

Chairman Podgorsek listed some of the endorsements for the bond issue that have been made to date.

These include: Campbell Municipal Employees Ass'n.; St. Lucy's YLI; Campbell Citizens for Beautification; Campbell Union (elementary) School District; Moreland School District; Campbell City Council; West Valley Senior Citizens Action Center; Knights of Columbus, Bishop O'Dowd Council; Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary.

CofC hears of 'Towers' Thursday

Fred Sahadi, the developer with Pittsburg-Des Moines Steel of "The Towers", now under construction and the proposed commercial center, "The Prune Yard", at Campbell and Bascom avenues, is scheduled to be the speaker at the Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon meeting this Thursday, May 29.

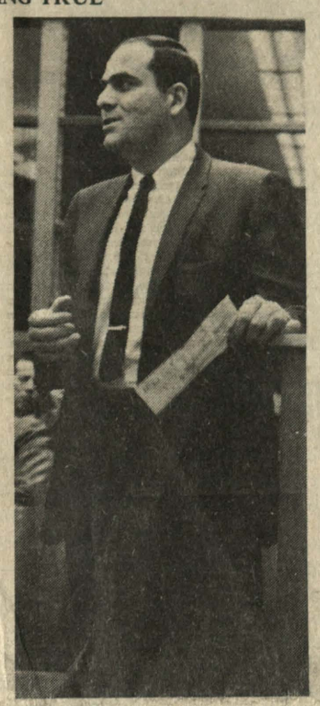
The CofC will meet at the Sveden House, 1730 W. Campbell Ave. at noon.

Sahadi, who is now rated as the second highest taxpayer in town, is the owner of the plush apartment complex, "The Cardiff Affair" on Union Ave. and is co-owner of the Paseo de Palmas, mobile home park, also on Union Ave. Both are not far from where the tallest building between San Francisco and Los Angeles is now being constructed.

"The Towers", the 18-story office building, which has now risen to the half-way mark (nine floors), is the most dramatic construction job ever undertaken in Campbell.

Sahadi and his co-developer, "PDM", are radically changing Campbell's "skyline" and have provided a built-in landmark for this city which for most observers will be the new focal point for activity for years to come.

Sahadi, who, at press time, was "fighting" a conflicting engagement with the luncheon, presented his novel concept of a commercial-cultural center, which would carry out the early California motif in design more than a year ago.



FRED SAHADI
--man-of-vision

At that time he also dramatically submitted the proposition of "The Towers" with the invitation that the City of Campbell take over the first five floors of the building as a civic center.

After the storm had raged for several months and it was obvious that there was a divided opinion on the matter, Sahadi withdrew his offer to the City. Later he received

First phase of "Prune Yard" goes before Commission Monday

Planning Commission members next Monday, June 2, will have before them plans for the first unit of "The Prune Yard", the commercial-cultural center that will be constructed at Bascom and Campbell avenues.

The first unit includes two theaters and a fabric shop and is part of the complex that will be adjacent to "The Towers", the 18-story office building that has now reached nine floors.

The "Prune Yard" and "The Towers" are being developed jointly by Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel.

Before the Commission Monday also will be the request for interim zoning by the Courtesy Tow Service to allow a storage yard for wrecked, impounded and abandoned vehicles to be located at the east bank of Los Gatos Creek with access at 282 Dillon Ave.

The matter had been continued from the last meeting at the request of Jack Dawson, local attorney, representing the towing firm.

The Gilman-Dillon-Railway area is now "frozen" under interim zoning, while some orderly plan for the development of the entire area can be produced.

The City has applied for federal aid in the planning and improvement of the substandard area through the Neighborhood Planning Program.

The request for interim zoning request for the vehicle storage yard, which would replace the infamous "outhouses", long an eye-sore that has long concerned organizations and individuals, has provoked protests from many quarters in the city.

The feeling has indicated in the objections is that the wrecked cars would probably be only a degree better than the outhouses.

The Planning Commission is also scheduled to act on the plans for a car-wash operation at Kennedy and Winchester, requested by Ira Brotzman.

Open space $$$

Because it would delay a possible $207,500 federal open space grant for almost a year, if the City waited until the hoped-for passage of the park bonds on June 10, the City Council on Monday authorized the filing of the application for the grant.

The request is based on a 50% assist by the federal government under the open space program for land acqusitions and development of the city park areas.

Passage of the $625,000 park bond issue is, of course, necessary if the City is to obtain the matching funds.

Construction of single family homes in Campbell takes "dive"

Construction of single family residences in Campbell has dwindled to almost nothing this year so far.

But construction as a whole is up almost $900,000 over last year at this time, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

April building permits fell behind the same month last year but the high commercial building boom (including the multi-million "Towers") has kept the year far ahead of last year.

In April this year no permits for single family homes were issued while in April, 1968 there were 14 and 31 for the year to date for $708,094.

This year there has been only one for the entire four month period this year for $23,864!

Total building was down in Campbell for April, Byron's office reports with a total of $463,885 for this April compared to $783,931 for the same month last year.

The total for the four months, however, puts 1969 ahead, $3,159,469.75, as op-

San Tomas students depict "old-and-new" in big mosaic

San Tomas School in keeping with the ideals of Campbell Beautification will dedicate two large mosaic murals, Monday, June 2, at 7 p.m.

The murals entitled "Santa Clara Valley--The Old and The New", depict life in the Santa Clara Valley from the time of the Indians, through the present and on to a child's concept of the future.

The two 4x8 panels were designed by more than 100 children who submitted drawings. Various portions of their drawings were used in the overall design. Nearly 500 children participated in the actual construction of the project.

Last fall the students and faculty were interested in entering the Campbell Beautification Contest. Dorreen Turrubiate, student body president, said "The student council wanted to do something to make the school look better. We wanted to make something we would be proud of even when we grow up."

Major landscaping began last winter with the planting of new trees and shrubs. The Student Council has purchased flowers and planted them in the school's planting boxes. San Tomas Brownie Troop 241 also had a part in landscaping when they gave the school Rosemary bushes early this spring.

Structural redesigning has begun and the children's mural project is an integral part of the plan to make the front of the school a "courtyard art gallery" where many kinds of children's art will be on display.

The timing of the mural dedication is scheduled to give impetus to the Campbell Parks and Recreation bond issue, as the San Tomas School will be one of the beauty spots of Campbell if the bond issue passes.

Dedication and unveiling of the Mosaics will be con-

Patriotism

The Campbell Press recognizes that it will be labeled old-fashioned and out-of-step by the modern-day dissidents but this newspaper is extremely proud of the project just completed at the Forest Hills School.

Last week at an impressive unveiling ceremony, a 24-foot mosaic that carried out a patriotic theme was dedicated.

This colorful mosaic, composed of 23,137 multi-colored pieces of tile ranging in size from a tip of a pencil to a half dollar, is placed against the outside front wall of the school where we hope it will remain for years to come.

Not only is the art work itself impressive but the fact that all the 800 youngsters in the school (grades K-5) actually participated in the work. In addition, parents of the youngsters worked hundreds of hours on the project, as did the teachers and maintenance people.

In all it was a tremendous cooperative venture, which was built at a very low cost but is valued at hundreds of dollars.

Although The Press realizes that the joint effort was commendable, i.e., parents-teachers-kids working together on a project of such magnitude, still the one phase of which we are the most proud is that patriotic theme that was used in the mosaic.

And the theme was picked by the kids!

Depicted on the panels are the American and California flags, Abraham Lincoln, the nation's capitol, the Statue of Liberty, the American Eagle and the Liberty Bell.

In the face of the trend among some articulate modern day young rebels to belittle the flag, the country and its historical background or anything patriotic, this project at Forest Hills, to us, was extremely refreshing.

The editor of this paper unashamedly admits that he gets a catch in his throat when the national anthem is played or sung.

We are thrilled when the flag passes in review.

We are terribly proud of this nation's history.

And we have maintained time and time again that patriotism is not dead.

But, at times, when some of the unwashed few "demonstrate" by desecrating the flag or insulting our country's heritage by other means, we must admit we have begun to wonder.

Apparently in some areas to be patriotic is something that just isn't done any more.

So when the 800 kids at Forest Hills, and their parents and their teachers under Pete Peterson, the principal, on their own, originate and develop a patriotic theme for their mosaic, we are mighty proud of all of them.

And we want them all to know that.

We commend the entire Forest Hills group, from the tiniest kindergartner to the most elderly grandparent who were involved in this ambitious project. It was magnificent.

We take almost as much pride in their finished product as the kids and adults who actually participated in the project.

The dedication program, when the mosaic was unveiled, was most impressive.

And we got that catch in our throat again.

The entire crowd concluded the program by joining in singing "America the Beautiful".

We thought that was most fitting.

It's an emergency

As most of you know, there is a city bond issue on the ballot for June 10. The electorate will be asked to approve a $625,000 park bond issue (by a two-thirds majority) that will allow the City to acquire eight acres adjacent to the city-owned Rincon Park and also provide $80,000 for the development of eight neighborhood parks (at eight different schools within the city limits).

The Campbell Press heartily endorses the park bonds.

Our basic reason is that the open-space within our city is rapidly diminishing and that unless the City acquires the eight acres adjoining the Rincon Park, a 288-unit, four-story apartment complex will be constructed smack up against the park. And that particular open space parcel will be gone forever.

We also believe, however, there is another point that must be considered by the electorate on June 10.

In October 1967, the citizens of Campbell in an election approved bond issues for streets and the civic center but turned down by a relatively few votes the $800,000 park bond proposition that was on the ballot.

A good-sized majority favored the park bonds but not enough for the necessary two-thirds.

BUT in October 1967, there was not a do-or-die situation at stake.

At that time there was no application (approved) for a huge apartment complex adjacent to the present park.

We hazard the guess that, if that had been the case in 1967, the voters would have approved the bond issue for parks.

But now the situation has radically changed.

The October 1967 park bond issue was submitted to the voters only after months of study and research by a citizens committee who felt that it was a necessity, despite the fact that there was no "emergency".

We maintain that an emergency does now exist.

We submit that, if the citizens committee, composed of representatives of almost every segment of the community, felt that the $800,000 park bond issue was necessary in 1967 without the ogre of an apartment complex depleting the open space, it is doubly important today.

We hold, therefore, that the park bond issue before the people on June 10 is simply a repeat performance, with the added feature of an emergency nature.

A "YES" vote then on June 10 has much more riding on it than it had in October, 1967.

We urge you to recognize that fact when you go to the polls on June 10.

Steve Borsgard chosen as Boys State delegate

STEVE BORSGARD

Steve C. Borsgard, 540 Sobrato Dr., a junior at Campbell High School, has been selected as a delegate to Boys State which will be held in Sacramento the last week of June. Steve is being sponsored by the American Legion Post 158, West Valley Unit.

The American Legion Boys State program is designed to give the youth of the nation a better perspective of the practical operation of government at all levels. The week-long program is conducted in all states but one and the District of Columbia in the late spring or early summer of each year.

Charles W. Craw, Boys State Program chairman for the West Valley Post 158, stated that each year the delegate to Boys State is selected by the teachers and principal of the school on the basis of scholarship, good character and active participation in the school program. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calmer Borsgard.

on the same night, in the same place.

And had a ball!

Of course, you must start with the basic premise that you and your wife went to the same school.

This double feature program came about through one of those quirks of fate in which our class scheduled its reunion on the same night that our Dorothy's class was getting together.

Now, under some circumstances such a conflict could result in problems.

Y'know, do you tag along with your wife and miss your own class's bash or does she trot with you and skip hers?

In either case there could develop some strained situations in retrospect at future breakfast tables.

But in our case there were no such problems.

Both classes gathered in the same restaurant in Chowchilla.

The groups actually went through the same smorgasbord line, separating later into different rooms for the traditional introductions, the listing of children and grandchildren, discovering who came the farthest, and all that.

Admittedly this probably could only happen in Chowchilla, where neither the town nor the high school has had problems relating to overcrowded conditions.

There are not many places in the town that have TWO banquet rooms.

Thus the "shuttling" between class get-togethers presented no major logistic problem...we just opened the door between the two rooms and scooted through whenever it became necessary.

-0-

OBVIOUSLY, SOME OF the more curious of you would like to know what years were involved in these two coincidental reunions of dear old Chowchilla High.

For the record then, it should be emphasized that this was the year of the "Nines".

Your editor got his diploma in 1929 and Dorothy picked hers up in 1939.

Dorothy's class was larger but was represented at the reunion by only half of the members at the reunion.

Our class had more than one-half its members present and all but one of its total membership who received diplomas 'way back 40 years ago were on hand or sent greetings.

Four members of Dorothy's class have passed on.

Not a single person from our hardy group has left this world yet.

And surprisingly enough, no one in our group appeared about to do so within the immediate future, at least.

It took a little doing to get every one in proper focus.

It was surprising to note how all our classmates had changed.

Present company excepted, of course.

THIS YEAR OF "THE NINES" also has affected a couple other compatriots of The Press.

For example, Brent Ulrich, production manager of The Press, attended his Campbell High class reunion last weekend.

His was 1959.

And then our gal, Sally Howe, who formerly was also part of The Press "establishment" recently joined other members of her Abraham Lincoln High School of San Jose in a class reunion.

Hers was 1949.

STEPS HAVE BEEN taken to involve the City of Campbell in the Neighborhood Planning Program subsidized to a large extent by the federal government under the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs (HUD).

It will probably be the most outstanding planning program that has ever been undertaken by this city, involving not only the substandard Gilman-Dillon-Railway area but also the downtown sector, involving $ millions of which the city gets credits for improvements already in or planned.

The City has applied for the program which has the advantage over any previous federal urban renewal plan because it can improve sections of the big area.

It sounds logical.

A federal official explained the basic principles at a recent meeting attended by many interested citizens.

It was disappointing that apparently due to conflicts, no members of the Planning Commission were able to be on hand for the first session on this major face-changing project.

Council dislikes overpass method

Campbell councilmen decided on Monday night to officially indicate their displeasure in writing of the way the final plans for the Rincon pedestrian overpass had been presented to them.

The Council gave reluctant approval of the plans. (Two negative votes were cast solely because of the presentation.)

In the joint venture, the City will pay $25,000 as its share of overpass cost.

At the presentation submitted by the county public works staff, it was indicated that unless the City approved the plans as submitted, specifying that Campbell did not approve of such bulldozing tactics.

The councilmen thought they should have more than 10 minutes to look over the project would be delayed for a year.

The City Council directed a letter be written to the supervisors,

In the second row are Mrs. Hans Haug, Mrs. Mel Flitcraft, president of the Guild, Mrs. Floyd Greenleaf, Mrs. Arthur MeMattei, Mrs. Bill Beam and Mrs. Clifford Ostrom.

Country Woman's Club receives first place

At the recent Federation of Womans Clubs of California convention, the Country Woman's Club of Campbell received a first place award for excellence and achievement in their report on the Art Education Activities of the club as presented by Mrs. Don Howland.

The report describes the efforts of members of the Woman's Club to make their club room building at First and Campbell Aves. suitable for art classes which are taught under the Metropolitan Adult Education program.

Mrs. Howland has been instrumental in coordinating and teaching the seven daytime art classes during the school year as well as summer time classes for both children and adults.

The adult art students under her direction have also organized and maintained a highly successful Art Guild, which is now in its fifth year in Campbell. The Guild is open to active beginners as well as professional artists in the county.

Members of the Guild and Mrs. William E. Cave, president of the Campbell club, gathered last week in the club house where Mrs. Cave congratulated Mrs. Howland for her accomplishment.

The Guild meets once a month, the third Thursday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the Campbell Country Woman's Club. Interested artists from surrounding communities are invited to attend and join the group.

OUR three sons!

Three neighbors on Elwood Drive were expecting new additions to the families this spring. Now what would the odds be that all three would be boys or girls?

Johan Kohler was the first to arrive on Feb. 27, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willem A. Kohler of 1400 Elwood Drive. Wonderful—a son has been born.

On May 1, the second baby arrived, and was christened John Willis Thompson III. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Willis II, of 1380 Elwood.

That left the Richard E. Grisham's of 1390 Elwood Drive still expecting their baby. And on May 4 young David Lindsay Grisham put in an appearance making three sons for the three good neighbors.

Won't those three boys have fun growing up together?

REMODELING TIPS

If the contractor who remodels your home is not qualified, you pay for his mistakes. To avoid the disappointment of a poorly done home remodeling job and to assure "getting full dollar's worth," the following basic rules to follow are suggested:

1) Employ a contractor with an established place of business, preferably in your locality.

2) Be sure he has adequate financial references.

3) Get references from him of satisfied customers for whom he has done remodeling work in the area, and check on them personally by phone. If you have a Better Business Bureau in your city, check to see if there is an adverse file on him. Otherwise, check him out with your local Chamber of Commerce.

4) Observe carefully how precisely he "sized up" your proposed project, take note of his suggestions and discuss them thoroughly with him. Don't be rushed. He has time, and so do you. Avoid snap judgments, either pro or con.

5) Be sure, as regards major projects, to have written agreement on plans and specifications.

6) Have a thorough understanding as to quality of materials and workmanship required.

7) Don't "shop" with him on prices of materials or labor rates. He knows his business, and he wants your business.

Think your project through. Keep in mind the main purpose for embarking upon your improvement project, extra space, modernization, weather conditioning, etc.

Plans—If plans are required insist that you okay them before work begins. When you see the plan, study it, and then okay it.

Materials — All materials should be specified in the contract by brand names and quantity.

Be Certain that your contractor provides a Certification of Insurance covering Workmen's Compensation, property damage, and personal liability.

Who cleans up?—Most contractors offer you a contract that guarantees the cleaning up of all debris and materials after the job is finished. Your home is left "brush clean." Since this is an additional labor cost to the contractor, it does slightly raise the cost of your job, but it is well worth it.

Summer outdoor classes for kids to take place at WVC Saratoga

Three two-week sessions of "Summer Outdoor School" on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College will be held for children 9-12 years of age living within the college district boundaries.

The program is offered through the Summer Recreation program of West Valley College and is sponsored by the Office of Community Services.

Sessions will be held on June 23 through July 4; July 7 through July 18; and July 21 through August 1, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Camp director is Thomas Smith, instructor in physical education and outdoor education at West Valley College. He will be assisted by Evonne Davenport and Steven Bordi. Participation is limited to 150 children per session, and application is on a first-come, first-served basis. Fee for each two-week session is $15.

Purpose of the program is to "develop an understanding of the world of nature and to teach the children conservation and the arts of outdoor living."

Classes will be offered in: Natural Sciences, Donald Stoner, Biological Sciences Department, instructor; Earth Science, Ted Herman, Geology Department, instructor; Arts and Crafts, Joseph Livingstone, instructor; Camp Craft, Evonne Davenport, San Jose City College, instructor.

Physical Education and Aquatics, entire staff. Because of the depth of the college's 50-meter pool, swimming instruction cannot be given, and recreational swimming will be restricted to those who can prove that they can swim 25 yards or more.

College board takes first look at 1969-70 $11 million budget

A tentative $11,188,000 budget proposal was presented to the West Valley College Board of Trustees Thursday night, and the Board set a special meeting for Tuesday, May 27 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the proposal.

The new budget plan compares to a $7,662,500 budget for the fiscal year just ending, and the increase can largely be accounted for by the $3,883,385 cost of the proposed Language Arts-Social Science Building on the Saratoga campus.

Included is a $500,000 item from the Federal Government toward the construction costs of this building, and an $811,382 anticipated item, now included in the Governor's budget pending before the current legislature from the State of California for the same purpose.

In the transmittal letter, Dr. Wallace W. Hall, Superintendent, recommended a 5 percent cost of living increase for all employees. A faculty committee at the meeting presented a package proposal calling for an 8.65 percent increase for its members. The administration proposal also assumes by the district all premium costs for employee health insurance.

The Board also accepted low bids for purchase of a variety of furniture and equipment for the Science and Mathematics Building from 10 different companies, and for office equipment from five other bidders.

It also authorized sale of surplus equipment no longer required by the college.

The Board also:

Postponed until June 5 the provisions of the California Vehicle Code to apply to the Campbell campus, because of crowded traffic conditions there, to include a posted maximum speed limit of 25 miles per hour, parking in designated places by both staff members and visitors and two-wheeled vehicles, and no parking or stopping on access roads.

Deferred until the June 5 meeting consideration of preliminary plans for landscaping around the pool and Science-Mathematics Building and also action on the $10,443 low bid of Frank Clawsen of Saratoga for landscaping of Food Services Building at Saratoga Campus.

Renewed its agreement with San Jose State College for student-teacher training at West Valley College.

TRIPLE JUMPER

One quarter of an inch really doesn't seem like much but for West Valley College triple-jumper Rich Dunn, it must seem like 20 feet. Dunn got off a fine jump of 49'8½" at the state championships last Saturday in Modesto but Robert Reader, Bakersfield, leaped 49'8¾" to better the pace by one-quarter inch.

In order to qualify to compete in the national meet late in June, Dunn will have to hit that evasive 50 foot standard. Last year he competed in the June event as the first Viking ever to go to the nationals.

KITCHEN BECOMES HEART OF THE HOME

If you're remodeling your kitchen, remember that today the kitchen is more than just a place to prepare meals and wash dishes. It is now the heart of the home and main center of most family activity.

Use of the kitchen has expanded to replace the living room as an entertainment area for family and guests.

The kitchen has become the place where guests congregate, where games are played, and family projects are undertaken. It is also the ideal location in many homes for the washer and dryer which can be as attractive as any of the room's other appliances.

Since the modern homemaker spends so much of her time in the kitchen area, it's well to keep in mind when remodeling that it should reflect her taste and her personality. With all the modern conveniences available in a host of colors and styles, the kitchen decor can inspire the homemaker and lift her creative spirits.

Tappan Designer Cabinets feature removable door panels so she can mix, match or switch panels to create the perfect dream kitchen. She can choose any decor in the world from the hot-blooded Mediterranean look, that is currently so popular, to the many-splendored look of the Far East or the open, clean, uncluttered look of Contemporary design.

The door panels on Tappan's Designer Cabinets are both removable and reversible so that in a matter of minutes the whole kitchen can take on an entirely different look for any special occasion. Changing the decor is as simple as turning a panel door.

All Tappan "You-Shaped Kitchens" have the same basic cabinets with an optional choice of door panels offered for the homemakers selection. Or she can replace the standard panels with any ⅛-inch or ¼-inch thick fiberboard material. In both cases, she picks the look she likes today, but can change that look to suit tomorrow's "brilliant idea" that may come on the spur of the moment.

The nice thing about these quick changes is that no tools are needed. Decorations can be attached to the panels with contact cement or wallpaper paste and can include fabrics, artwork, even three-dimensional objects. The possibilities are unlimited.

So before remodeling, consider the numerous advantages of being able to change your kitchen with the seasons, for special events, for holidays, or simply to give the room where people congregate a "new look" whenever you tire of the old.

For a remodeling kit that includes the "You-Shaped" concept, send $1.00 with mailing instructions to Tappan, Merchandising Dept., 250 Wayne St., Mansfield, Ohio 44902.

This week marks the beginning of Spring Football Practice. Last Friday, a meeting was held for all interested boys and practice started Monday.

May 20 proved to be the long awaited Sneak Day for the seniors. The day was spent at Santa Cruz with plenty to do and lots to eat. Everyone enjoyed themselves and came back full, but tired.

The spring sports banquet was held last Monday night at the Sveden House. Boys participating in the spring sports were awarded their blocks, stars, etc.

The Girls Sports Award Banquet will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Members of the Girls Sports will be awarded for most outstanding, most improved, and honorable mention. These will be awarded to each sport. After the award giving and the presentation of the new officers, the singing group, Me, Him and Her will perform. The cost is 25 cents.

Work Permits for those students who plan to work during the summer and are under 18, can be obtained in Room 1. Some proof of birth–either your birth certificate or baptismal certificate–is needed in order to get one. The work permits will be issued throughout the summer.

All seniors planning to participate in the graduation ceremonies must order their cap and gowns in the Treasure Chest during the lunch hours this week.

Seniors may still sign up for the all-night party to be held on June 12 from 10:30 to approximately 5 a.m. Contact Mrs. Spehar for further information.

The Junior edition of the school paper, The Campus Echo, came out last Friday. From the looks of it, the paper should be quite well next year.

Rally Day will be held tomorrow from 12:30 - 2:30 on the track field. This is to be one of the best rally days at Campbell. Some of the races have been dropped and others have replaced them. All five teams are determined to come out as number one. This is one of the last activities to be counted for the class competition trophy to be given to the class with the most points for the different competitions throughout the year.

Last Wednesday, 220 students of the C.S.F. Honor Society went to San Francisco for the day. Leaving at 8:30 a.m., the students arrived in San Francisco an hour later and went to see the Maritime Museum, the San Francisco Zoo, or to the Federal Reserve.

During the afternoon, the members were left on their own for lunch and a chance to look around. Later in the evening, they went to see George M, Funny Girl, or 2001 Space Odyssey, ate dinner and returned to the buses. They arrived back at school at approximately 9:30 p.m.

In the Track Finals that were held, Mark Ramos took a first in the long jump, a first in the 440 yard dash (league record), and a third in the 220 yard dash; Steve Lico took a fifth in the 180 yard low Varsity Hurdles; Greg Zelmar took a third in the low hurdles; and Jim Royer took a third in the discus..

The Bloc C Bar-B-Q, held last Friday proved to be a big success. The party was open to members and their guests. Everyone had a good time and a lot of fun.

Tickets will soon be on sale for the all school picnic to be held on June 6 on the campus. The tickets will cover the cost of the dinner. A KLIV disc jockey will MC the dance during the picnic. This is the last school activity that will take place this year.

Any student who hasn't purchased their yearbook tokens should do so by tomorrow in order to get their yearbooks on Friday, June 6. No yearbooks will be given to students without tokens on Friday. They will have to wait until Monday. The cost is 50 cents.

Next week starts rehearsals for the Seniors. The first practices - June 5 and 6 - will be for Baccalaureate to be held on June 8 at 5 p.m. All seniors planning to be in it, must attend every rehearsal.

Del Mar Dateline

By Janice Hallyburton and Molly Ford

Next year's lettergirls, chosen last week, are Janet Alessio, Nancy Billurus, Melinda Durrer, Debbie Humburg, Julie Kawakami, Diane Lamar, Karen Rediker, Chris Sacco, Karen Stevenson, Kris Stevenson, Sue Thompson and Jamie Wheelahan. Kathy Praisewater is first alternate and Cindy Burt, second alternate.

The class of '70's Junior Prom, Carousel, was held last Friday night from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight in the Del Mar cafeteria. Dress was semi-formal and music was provided by the Chosen Few.

Del Mar's traditional Sports Day is tomorrow, May 29. Students are urged to dress casually in their class color. Senior color is blue, junior color is red, sophomore color is yellow and freshman color is green. From 12:30 until 3:05 there will be class competition in games and races.

Student Body cards were turned in Tuesday and next week students will receive yearbooks in time for the Yearbook Dance on June 6. Chris Hutchings is this year's yearbook, Laurel, editor. The advisor is Mrs. Babb.

The Del Mar newspaper, the Galleon, has its last issue of the year coming out this week. This issue is devoted to Senior activities. Senior wills, mosts, plans and a Senior collage' will be included.

Prospect Pulse

The schedule is getting busier for the seniors as graduation nears. Sneak Day was today. The seniors enjoyed a day at Santa Cruz.

Rally Day is tomorrow. Students are to participate in a number of crazy activities. This day will sum up all class competition for the year.

Last week seniors met to discuss the all-night party at Frontier Village after graduation. The cost is $11.75 per student. Students should have their money in by June 2.

Also, the seniors were informed that all their bills must be paid by June 5 in order to graduate. The cap and gown rental fee of $3.50 is also due on June 5. On this day seniors will receive their yearbooks. Baccalaureate practice begins June 6; baccalaureate service will be held June 8.

Graduation practice begins on June 9 and 10. Final exams will be June 11 and 12. And, of course, graduation on the 13th.

An assembly was held last week to introduce candidates for student council for next year. Candidates for council are Eric Test, Chip Richardson, Bob Routt, Robin Seal and Mike Grey. Those students running for President are Steve Shoemaker and Mary Komachar. Elections will be next Tuesday.

Girls' Sports Awards Dessert will be held on June 5 at 7:30 p.m. Outstanding members will be honored as well as the most improved members.

The Speech and Drama Awards Dinner was held last week at the Red Coach Inn. Miss Lee Cunningham, speech coach, honored Martin Hesky with a two foot trophy as Outstanding Speaker of the Year. Connie Ecklund was honored as the Outstanding Actress of the Year from Drama Commission. Mr. Vernon Romar, principal, along with Vice-Principal Jack Wagnon and Activities Director Fred Moon attended the fancy affair.

Drill Team tryouts are this Friday. Ten girls will be chosen. The new head for next year will also be announced.

Camden Chatter

By Diane Carman

Straight arms, good balance, a nice smile, and keeping time with the music were the most important things to the 34 girls who tried out for lettergirl on Monday, May 5.

Student Council and this year's Spirit Commission voted for eight girls who, as fairly as they could judge, will do the best job in the coming school year.

Approximately 98 girls showed up for the semi-finals April 30, where they were to present a movement taught to them by this year's lettergirls. Teachers chose the girls they felt best qualified to participate in the finals.

Of these 98, the eight girls who made it through semi-finals and finals, our next year's lettergirls, are: Becky Byron, Laura Campbell, Julie Fuller, Kay Grano, Jeannie Grewohl, Sandy Inman, Mary Pettis, Stacie Quain, Cindy Stemel, and alternate, Heidi Heath.

"Fantasmagorial" is a synonym for the Film/Folk Fest held by Camden High School on May 16 in the gym. The artists performed on the low stage in front of a huge paper backdrop erected for the films and light show. Performers such as Steve and Barb Kritzer (brother and sister), and Dave Sugarman and Colleen Blake, transformed the audience into a moving, amazingly alive, show in itself.

Large credit must go to Daryl Fazekas, who worked for months, arranging tryouts, practice and publicity.

Folk-rock combined itself with beautiful harmony and colorful films to blend together an entertaining evening for all who came.

Camden GAA softball players went to Branham, May 8 and returned with a tie. Gayle Moser's and Jackie Sunseri's teams played as they did on May 1 at Los Gatos.

Badmitton players have had two successful outings resulting in an 8½ to 3½ win over Los Gatos, May 1, and a 9 to 3 win over Branham, May 8.

Winning against Branham in the "A" division were Mc Kee and Mercurio, LeGate and Thompson, and Jones and Lueder.

Track teams took a second in their first meet against Prospect (175) and Leigh (84) with 118 points.

A highlight in the meet was a tying of the AGA record.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Thirty-three Girl Scout leaders from Campbell were honored recently in a co-operative cook-out luncheon at Oak Meadow Park. Service Team members, with charcoal fire blazing, whipped up a one-pot "Jungle Stew" as the main course. Leaders provided an assortment of salads, desserts and beverages.

A short business meeting preceded the meal with the emphasis on "Leader appreciation". It was noted that no other volunteer organization demands as much time as that of Troop Leaders of the Girl Scout movement, who put aside nine days out of each month for activity to benefit girls in each individual troop.

A speech of appreciation from the Service Team thanked the Leaders for this time-consuming dedication that has side effects of nervous anxiety, pressure on family relations, and sometimes headaches.

All agreed these side effects can be overcome with patience, flexibility and a sense of humor. The main idea of Girl Scouting, "Character Building", is worth the Leader effort, it was agreed, so that girls may grow into well-adjusted, happy citizens.

Each Leader was honored, by the Service Team, with a single yellow rose, signifying that they, like the rose, were "lovely to behold".

Mrs. D. I. Mason, Neighborhood Chairman, thanked the Service Team for another year of service, presenting each of them with tiny miniature roses. A medley of action songs and camping hints for Leaders to share with their girls, completed the final meeting of the season.

Special guests included Sandy Skillern, Professional Advisor from Santa Clara County Girl Scout Council; Mrs. W. F. Cole, former Neighborhood Chairman; Helen Rojas, former Leader and L.O. Blackman, former Service Team member.

LEADERS HONORED---Mesdames R. J. Crapo, Sandy Skillern, W. W. Leach, G. W. Bourgeau, Helen Rojas, F. H. Clough, D. I. Mason and R. J. Faler with her small daughter, were honored by the Girl Scouts of Neighborhood 17 at a recent cookout held in Oak Meadow Park.

Application forms may be obtained from the Office of Community Services, West Valley College, 44 East Latimer Ave., Campbell, Calif., 95008, or by calling 379-1733, extention 58.

with "Charlie" Gubser

Through close association with military men in my service on the Armed Services Committee, I have been consistently impressed with their ability and devotion to duty. Contrary to what some would have you believe, they are more dedicated to peace than the average citizen. Furthermore, those in positions of responsibility usually demonstrate outstanding ability.

Despite this, a latent distrust of the man in uniform has persisted in the minds of many Americans. This feeling, fanned by a great wave of national revulsion against our involvement in Vietnam, has now reached dangerous and serious proportions.

My opinion of the majority of career military men has not changed. I still consider them to be responsible, competent and peace loving. But nevertheless, I must state, in a constructive spirit, that military men themselves are partially responsible for their poor public image. For some reason Pentagon representatives have lacked candor in explaining their decisions and actions to the public and Congress. Consistently they have engaged in a practice which I call "fact fuzzing" – obscuring simple facts with "gobbledygook"

Congressmen usually reflect the mood of their constituents. Today the American public is questioning military judgment and so Congressmen are asking searching questions. Unfortunately, the military is not responding with candor.

Last week I asked serious questions about a decision by the Navy to commit $342 million to build destroyers with a gas turbine propulsion system which had never been tried in a combatant vessel at such high horsepower requirements. My inquiries triggered a two-day hearing during which we probed hard trying to get the full facts from the Navy. I was informed of a secret mission in the Pentagon on April 22 at which naval experts expressed doubts about the new propulsion system. But at our hearing these doubts were suppressed because the decision had been made that a united front before Congress was essential.

Step by step production of San Tomas mosaic

THE COMPOSITION---Roger Arno draws the "Cartoon Composit" of the childrens selection. He then projected the drawing, to scale on the plywood panels.

FINAL STEP---Resin is applied over the completed tile mosaic to protect the completed job and seal the surface from the weather. Doing the sticky job are Judy Liles, Victoria Candelaria, Beverly Napier and Jean Boyack.

THE COMPLETED WORK---Admiring the completed job and putting on the finishing touches are Beverly Napier and Jean Boyack helping Gary Opper, student council vice-president and Doreen Turrubiate, president of the council.

FIRST THE FRAMES---Wayne Liles and Al Boyack supplied and put together the two 4'x8' pieces of plywood and the steel frames that were the base and the frames of the San Tomas mosaic.

GOLD DISCOVERY

Within a year after the discovery of gold on Jan. 24, 1848, more than 100,000 prospectors had swarmed into California by sea and land.

Thrown rocks break windows

The Campbell Country Woman's Club, 274 E. Campbell Ave., the Robert Cunningham residence at 1785 Palo Santo and Roberts College Book Store, 46 E. Campbell Ave., all suffered losses by burglars and vandals over the last week.

A rock was heaved through the clubhouse window, and entry made through the restroom area. All of the locked cabinets in the storage area were pried open. As far as could be determined the loss was limited to vandalism.

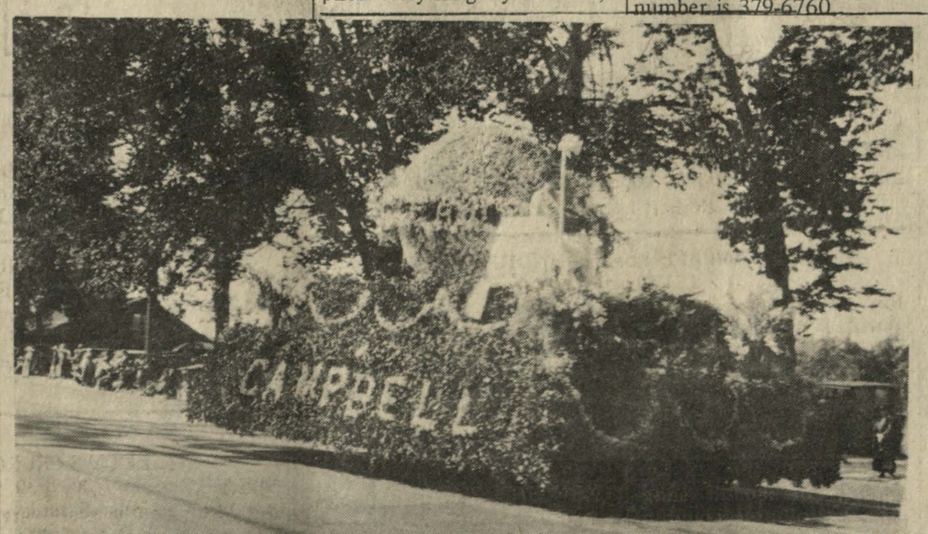
A ring, radio and change totaling $148 was missing from the Cunningham residence after a burglar pried the screen off the rear master bedroom and entry was made while the family was absent from the home.

Early morning thief grabs dog

Miss Carol Benbow, 403 Kings Court was leaving Saturday, May 24 at 6 a.m. to fly to New Mexico to attend her brother's graduation from the New Mexico Military Institute. Carol gathered her three pieces of luggage, her purse and her seven week old puppy, Herbie, and went out to the car, parked by the curb. She realized she had forgotten something in the house, so she piled everything by the car, including Herbie, and ran back inside for a second.

In that second, disaster, in the form of a young man driving a white Cadillac struck. Appearing out of nowhere, the driver swooped out of the car, picked up Carol's purse, grabbed Herbie and drove away.

Carol is offering a reward for the return of her jewelry which was in the purse, and also for Herbie. Her phone number is 379-6760.



FIRST ENTRY---Way back in the 1920's when the first Fiesta de las Rosas was held in a neighboring city, Campbell entered a lovely floral float. Mrs. Ralph Hyde recently found a picture of the float as it proceeded majestically down a tree-lined street on the parade route. She recalls that the float was topped with a large iron ball which was decorated to simulate the world, and a lovely young lady was chosen to be Miss Campbell and ride the float. Campbell's entry is shown above. According to Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. Alison was chairman of the parade entry.

THE BIG (?) GAME---In the annual event that always sets the game of baseball back about 10 years, the Chamber of Commerce supposedly defeated the City Hall last Friday on the West Valley College field. There was question about the score. But 12 to 11 was considered in most quarters about it.

Two other notables are in the other photo. That's Court Watson, one of the city hall pitchers on the left with the Rev. Ben Gould on the right, the umpire of the classic (?). Al La Plante apparently recovered enough from the nose-dive to hit a homer in the ninth to win the game for the CofC.

County school board group elects Homan

William J. Homan, clerk of the West Valley College Board of Trustees, has been elevated from vice-president to president of the Santa Clara County School Boards Association.

Eight executive board members of the association and four committee chairmen voted Homan into the position. He presides over more than 200 board members in all 38 of the county's elementary, high school, unified and junior college districts.

Named to the vice-president and secretary-treasurer spots were Mrs. Roy C. Rosendahl, Cupertino Union School District, and John O. Kinsey, Morgan Hill Unified School District, respectively.

The association is an educational group and has held meetings and seminars on such topics as school budgeting, teacher negotiation problems, campus communications and student militancy.

Homan is a senior associate engineer at IBM Corporation and has been a West Valley College trustee for five years. He is a member of the Cambrian Park Kiwanis Club, California Junior College Association and the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

Letters to the Editor

COMMENDS EDITORIAL

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

Thank you for your fine editorials regarding the "Classy Chassy", in which you asked for support of the city administration's stand in closing the topless club.

I must have been "Number 51" to attend the City Council Meeting on May 12th, as I was not able to be present when the 50 were counted! Several others also came in about 9:00 P.M. to support Chief Morgan and the City's stand. We sat in the back row, you might recall.

I would very much appreciate your sending me a petition, as I know I would have no trouble at all having neighborhood residents sign a petition opposing topless clubs in our city.

Thank you for taking a courageous stand!

Most sincerely,
Mrs. Marjorie Green

City must force rights-of-ways

Because of the need to take action on the rights-of-way prior to the first public hearing (June 17) on Local Improvement District No. 18, the City Council on Monday authorized the public works department to acquire six parcels by eminent domain proceedings.

Part of the action was to authorize the deposit of $42,037 with the clerk of the Superior Court for the purchase of the properties.

LID No. 18 plays the major role in the most ambitious street improvement project ever undertaken by the City. The U-shaped job (Hamilton-Bascom-Campbell) is estimated to cost $500,000.

Authorization to proceed with the job has been received from the State. But one of the primary conditions, Frank Lewis of the city engineering staff, explained is that negotiations for the acquisition of all the rights-of-way properties must have been completed by the hearing on June 17.

Current developments in another vital street matter affecting the same area, the requested interchange at Campbell Ave. and the freeway were reported by City Manager Bob Stephens.

He said that the issue could be before the State Highway Commission in July based on recommendations from the state engineers. If the engineers do not recommend the interchange, the City still can appear at the highway commission meeting in appeal, he explained.

Stephens added that the engineers have stressed the low priority the job would have and also that they indicated, if they made a favorable recommendation, it would be the most expensive of the five plans that have been drafted.

In other actions at the City Council meeting Monday, first reading was given three zoning ordinances (Wrinkled Prune Annex M-2-S to C-3-S; 52 Michael Drive R-1 to R-3-S and Sutter Hill Development Co. PD). Second reading (adoption) for the ordinances will take place at the next meeting.

The Council also approved the annexation of four lots on Apricot Ave. and deferred action on the insurance proposals that had been submitted.

Deferred also was the appeal of Pan Pacific Properties at 262 Sunnyoaks from a Planning Commission denial. To overrule the Commission, four-fifths vote is necessary. With one councilman absent (Mayor Homer Hyde on vacation) the applicant thought the chances would be better if a full complement was present.

At the luncheon meeting, Thursday, provided Sahadi will be able to work out his conflict in dates, most of the members of the CofC will get their first opportunity for first-hand information about the most ambitious development that has hit town.

Members are asked to call the CofC office before 5 p.m. today to made reservations for the meeting.

The commission's denial of the car-wash project was overruled by a 3-2 vote of the City Council on appeal. The Commission, however, must now give architectural approval of the plans.

Before the Commission also will be the plans for a 152-unit apartment complex that is to be located off El Patio in. what is now a virtually land-locked parcel off the freeway. pected to continue with discussion on the modifications to the McGlincey Neighborhood Plan. The matter was bogged down at previous sessions because of the possibility that a zone change would be requested that would allow he Winchester Drive-In Theater to install a third screen at the present two-screen operation on a land-locked parcel owned by the theater, and adjacent to the present operation.

to deny the request because of the precedent it would set. Service organizations with similar commendable objectives now pay the $100 fee based on a firm policy that the Council adopted some years ago. Prior to the policy, the Council had been waiving some fees and not others.

City Manager Bob Stephens in reviewing the policy recalled that the hassle over the fireworks license fees had become so intense, that the Council had almost banned the sale of fireworks completely within the city limits.

In another action, Stephens reminded the councilmen that budget time was now at hand. He submitted dates for five tentative budget sessions ending with Monday, June 30, when the final hearing on both the preliminary budget and the six-year capital improvement program would be held.

The first session would be on Monday, June 9, which would be a public hearing but it would be continued to adjourned meetings during the month.

Because of the absence of Mayor Homer Hyde, the Council decided to wait until the mayor's return before setting the dates for the budget sessions.

Vice-Mayor Dean Chamberlin presided in the absence of Hyde.
